

Planning and Mobility Management of Incoming and Outcoming Students.

The Office of International Relations, as a unit of International Department of Relations and Cooperation, has as a main objective to promote the internationalization of the University of Cádiz.

The contact with other health systems and the ability to share experiences with other students and professionals in the health sciences are of great interest in the area of health sciences and highly justify the actions of mobility.

In this context, the International Relations Office will promote and manage mobility programs and cooperation projects and research at European and international level, mainly aspiring to encourage the transparency and good management of its programs and projects, favouring their promotion between the whole university community. Among its objectives, seeks to expand the presence of the University of Cadiz primarily in geographical areas of interest for Andalusia and Spain, with special reference to Latin America and the Mediterranean.

Mobility programs affiliated center

The School of Nursing "Salus Infirmorum", attached to the University of Cádiz, offers a service for the University mobility management, with specific collaboration agreements between different Universities in the framework of the European Higher Education Area. This service works in coordination with the International Relations Office of Cádiz University, planning and operation of the mobility programs. We hardly work to achieve new agreements to improve the offer of national and international student mobility.
